

Many rulers of the east attend Bastille day celebration in Paris. Clad in their brilliant garments, these kings and emperors from Africa were special guests this year. Photo taken at Longchamps race course.

A landmark in American marine history on Nantucket Island, the Sankaty Head light.

Wedding part of Lord Louis Mountbatten and Miss Edwina Ashley, photographed just before the wedding in London. The Prince of Wales was best man. Lord Mountbatten was an aide to the Prince of Wales during his trip around the world.

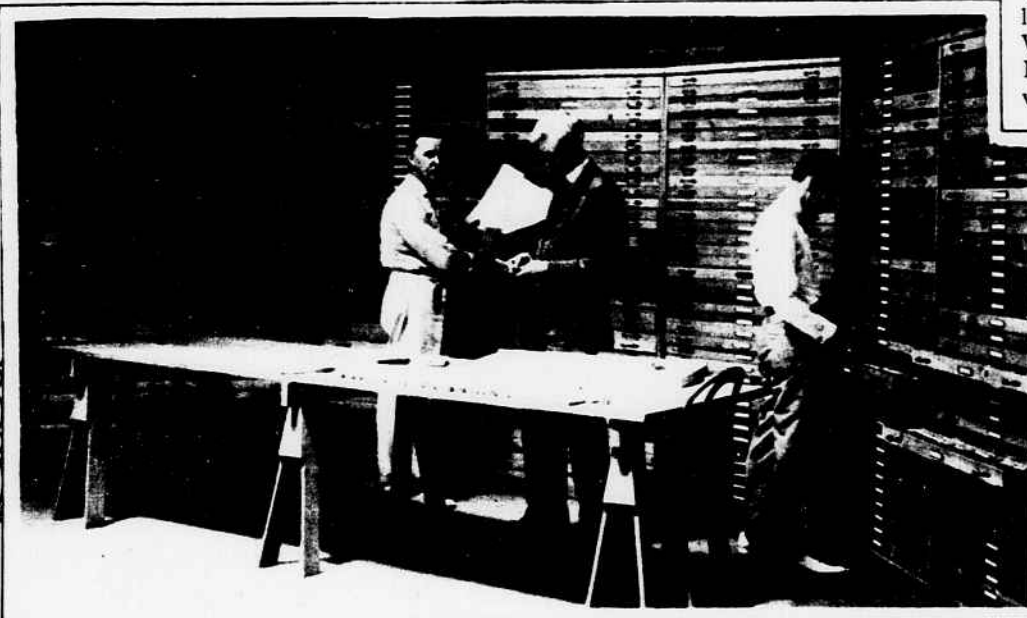

The Prince of Wales, best man, and his sister, Vicountess Lascelles, leaving St. Margaret's, Westminster, after the Mountbatten-Ashley wedding.

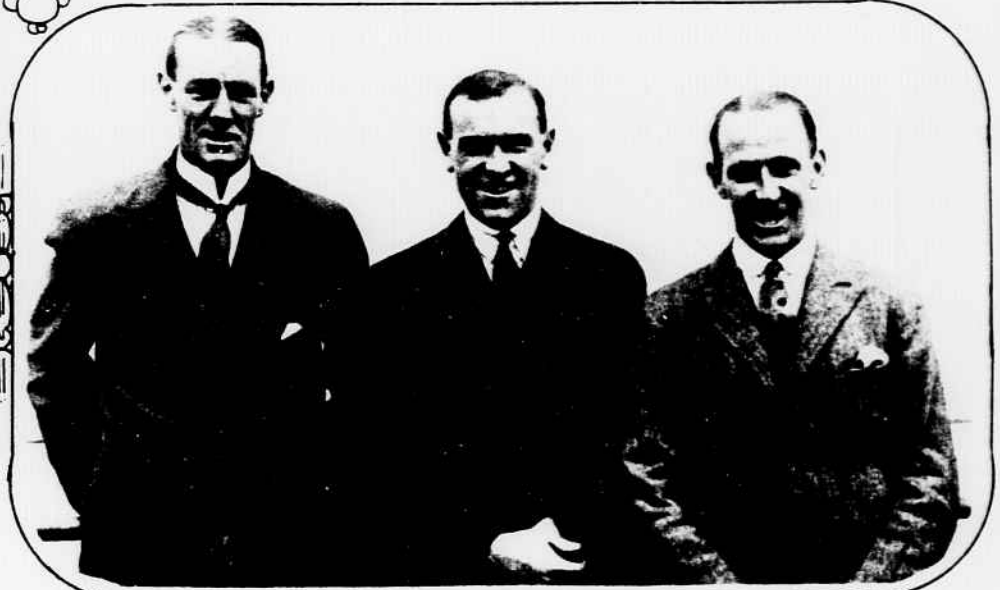

How would you like a Colombian tiger cub for a pet? This particular cub, photographed in New York, has been presented to Ty Cobb, manager of the Detroit Tigers of the American League.

Long skirt and sweeping side panels are featured in this Paris gown worn by Marion Davies, star of the photoplay. White georgette and chiffon, elaborately beaded, are the materials.

A room where common ordinary dirt is filed away and closely guarded—the bureau of soils of the Department of Agriculture. The drawers contain samples of soils from every nook and corner in the United States. In center: Dr. C. F. Marbut.

Australian tennis players who have arrived in this country to play for the Davis cup. They are James O. Anderson, Gerald L. Patterson and Pat O'Hara. They have won cups in many European countries.

Daily vacation Bible school class at Hamline M. E. Church.

Mgr. Sebastiano Lette de Vasconcellos, who was sent by the Pope to crown the statue of the Blessed Virgin at Santo Domingo. Photo taken aboard the S. S. Majestic in New York harbor.